Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav in Canada: Thousands attend India Day Festival, Grand Parade in Toronto

TORONTO: After two years of enforced virtual celebrations due to COVID-19 restrictions, tens of thousands of people of Indian-origin thronged to the showpiece India Day Festival and Grand Parade in Toronto on Sunday, which also observed Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav.

The parade featured multiple floats, with representation from 25 Indian states, as well as over 15 marching groups that joined the festivities that lasted for nearly 12 hours in downtown Toronto's Nathan Phillips Square. Among the major draws for festival-goers were a variety of Indian food stalls as well as cultural performances.

As the iconic 553 metre-high CN Tower was illuminated in the hues of the tricolour on Sunday evening for the occasion, organisers were elated with the turnout.

Vaidehi Bhagat, chair of the non-profit Panorama India, which put the entire parade together, estimated that nearly 100,000 Indo-Canadians attended the gathering through the day. She described the record response as "phenomenal".

Indians attended the gathering through the day. She described the record response as "phenomenal".

The chief guest for the event was Canada's Minister of National Defence Anita Anand, who later tweeted, "Thank you to all of the Indo-Canadians who came together to mark this momentous occasion."

Toronto Police personnel were present at the venue to prevent any disruption.

The India Day Parade, traditionally held the Sunday after August 15, was the culmination of a series of similar celebrations throughout the country this month. On August 15, Independence Day celebrations in Calgary in the province of Alberta witnessed a footfall of about 5,000 people. The venue was the City Hall Plaza as 22 community organisations joined together to organise the event. The Gurukul Intercultural Society organised a Tiranga Yatra car rally to mark the day in British Columbia last Sunday, with nearly 300 vehicles participating.

An event organised by the Canada India Global Forum was held in Montreal this Sunday.

Celebrations began even earlier, as the Taste of India food festival, the largest of its kind in North America, took place on July 31 and August 1 and attracted approximately 175,000 visitors. Organised by the Indo Canadian Chamber of Trade & Commerce, it featured 75 Indian cuisines and cultural performances to mark the anniversary.

UK economy shrank record 11% in 2020, worst in over 300 years

Britain recorded its biggest fall in output in more than 300 years in 2020 when it faced the brunt of the Covid-19 pandemic, as well as a larger decline than any other major economy, updated official figures showed on Monday.

Gross domestic product fell by 11.0% in 2020, the Office for National Statistics said. This was a bigger drop than any of the ONS's previous estimates and the largest fall since 1709, according to historical data hosted by the Bank of England.

British statisticians regularly update GDP estimates as more data becomes available.

The ONS's initial estimates had already suggested that in 2020 Britain suffered its biggest fall in output since the "Great Frost" of 1709. But more recently the ONS had revised down the scale of the fall to 9.3%, the largest since just after World War One.

Even before the latest revisions Britain's economic slump was the largest in the Group of Seven, and the latest downward revision makes it greater than Spain's, which recorded a 10.8% fall in output.

However the ONS cautioned against direct comparisons with other countries as most - with the exception of the United States - had not yet undertaken the same type of in-depth revisions as Britain had.

The downward revision in GDP reflected lower contributions from healthcare and retailers than previously thought.

"The health service faced higher costs than we initially estimated, meaning its overall contribution to the economy was lower," ONS statistician Craig McLaren said.

The ONS had already factored in a fall in routine care provided by Britain's National Health Service as it focused on treating Covid-19 patients and limiting the spread of the disease in hospitals.

A closer look at the increased costs faced by individual retailers also led to a downward revision of the sector's contribution, while factory output was revised up to take account of lower raw material costs.

Britain's economy bounced back sharply last year and recovered its pre-pandemic size in November 2021. But fast-rising inflation means the Bank of England expects the economy will slip back into recession later this year.

The ONS will publish updated growth figures for 2021 and the first half of 2022 on Sept. 30.

Singapore PM says global geopolitical tensions affect security in Asia-Pacific

Singapore Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong on Sunday said tensions between the United States and China and the Russia-Ukraine war affects security in the Asia-Pacific.

"We can expect more geopolitical contestation in the Asia-Pacific," he said, adding that Singapore would try its best to avoid being caught up in the "major power rivalry".

Worsening U.S.-China relations are making it "almost impossible" to work together on pressing global issues like climate change, pandemics, and nuclear proliferation, he said, speaking at the city-state's national day rally.

LOTE donates...

Barun Sarkar is so bad that neither he can walk a moderate distance nor he can work anywhere for his livelihood. Often while walking to meet people for financial help, he has to lay down on the road for 20 to 30 minutes to gather enough support from his backbone to walk again. According to Mr. Barun Sarkar the constant pain he is suffering is increasing with time.

After a prolonged treatment at the local level, he was recently referred from GB Pant Hospital, Port Blair to Ruby Hospital, Kolkata on 10th August 2022 under Ayushman Bharat scheme but he is unable to afford the travel and other expenses.

As the cost of various medical tests conducted by Hospitals are not covered under Ayushman Bharat scheme the patient is unable to gather courage to visit mainland hospitals.

Meanwhile, a handful of other Islanders have also collectively donated nearly Rs. 15,000.

The patient still requires some more amount to undergo spinal-cord treatment, which will most probably involve a surgery.

Andaman Sheekha appeals to all Islanders to contribute any amount possible to the patient, Mr. Barun Halder, so that he can lead a normal life. NGOs, Social Workers can contact Andaman Sheekha Daily over phone
